SOCIETY'S LAWS

A good society depends on good citizens with good values. Criminals and takers in a society are like termites eating at a large building. In time, if termites are allowed to grow uncontrolled, the building will collapse. T or F?

23. Good laws = strong society, weak laws = weak society; no laws = no society. T or F?

24. Without laws, our society, as we know it would not exist. The demands of justice say that there must be consequences for breaking laws. If we break a law and are punished for breaking that law, this is just. T or F?

UNIVERSAL LAWS

When we do wrong, we not only break society's laws but also universal laws. We can steal from our employer and never get caught, but we will suffer the consequences of breaking universal laws, experiencing added stress, fear, anger, and suspicion. T or F?

25. The Universal Law says, "Life is a mirror. What we put out, we will get back." T or F?

26. The Universal Law says, "If we keep on doing what we have been doing, we will keep on getting what we have been getting." How do we change what we have been getting in life? _____

_____

VALUES TEST

Take the following values test. Check "Yes" or "No."

	Yes	No
1. You find a wallet with $512 in it at a bus stop. It belongs to a businessman from another city. Will you contact him and send his money and wallet to him?
2. You check out of a grocery store. On your way out you discover that the clerk gave you $10 too much. Will you take it back?
3. On your tax return you put the wrong amount on a deduction causing you to get back an extra $234. It won't be audited. Will you file an amended return and pay it back?
4. Your employer reimburses you too much on travel expenses you turned in. You know it won't be caught. Will you tell your employer?
5. You spent $480 getting your car fixed and installing two new tires. When you get home, you discover that they installed the tires but did not charge you for them. Will you go back and pay the $142.58 for the tires?
6. You go to the movies with your child who just turned thirteen but looks younger. You don't have enough money for two adult tickets and popcorn. A child's ticket is two dollars less. Your child is watching. Will you tell your child's correct age?
7. You are out of work, food, and money. All you have is your checkbook. Will you go hungry instead of writing a bad check?
8. You sold a bike at your garage sale for $20. The people buying the bike gave you two new twenty dollar bills that were stuck together, but they didn't know it. Would you give back one of the bills?
9. You are about to take an important test at school. One of your friends got hold of the answer sheet. Will you refuse to use it?
10. The back door of a bank's armored car flew open and dumped money on the freeway. You stopped and collected $13,140. Would you give it back?
Total number of "Yes" and "No":

27. How many yes answers did you mark? _____ What does it mean? _____

_____

28. If you owned a store, which person would you hire, one who scored 1 to 4 yeses or one who scored 6 to 10? ___
Why? _____